MORE QUALITY, LESS GOODS

For centuries, Tegelen and its surroundings have been known for their exceptional clay deposits, which provided the foundation for a thriving pottery and brickmaking industry. The fertile Meuse (Maas) riverbanks offered high-quality clay that attracted craftsmen and entrepreneurs as early as the Roman era. Over time, this tradition evolved into a vibrant ceramics culture, with Tegelen becoming one of the key centers of Dutch ceramic production.

TEGELEN: HEART OF THE DUTCH CERAMICS TRADITION

Keramische Industrie Limburg BV was founded in 1978 by Harry and Mia Sloesen-Ernst, who together built a successful ceramic manufacturing company. Based in Tegelen, the company is deeply connected to a region with a long and rich history in ceramics.

GINA DA BRAND STORY

EVERY PRODUCT IS TIMELESS, WARM & AUTHENTIC

Gina Da stands for diversity, worldly influences and the feeling of family. Gina Da is there for everyone.

Crafted European ceramics forms the basis but also products with origins in metal, wood and grasses deserve a place in our collection. These ingredients together form the basis for our collections within Gina Da. The words 'Gina Da' literally translates as 'family home' made of clay. The collection features authentic products by the choice of materials.

KARAKTER

A COLLECTION IS DESIGNED WITH THE GREATEST CARE AND ATTENTION

1240C is the product of years of experience and knowledge of our craft: unprecedented quality. 1240C restores everything to its original state: a ceramic pot was meant to be watertight, it was only years later that the pot was given its decorative function.

We have brought these two together and we have a reason to be proud of the resulting. 1240C stoneware pottery, just like our parents and green professionals were used to using.

The brand is named after the temperature at which this stoneware has been fired: 1240 degrees Celsius. Through its versatile nature, 1240C is a beautiful addition to your collection, and above all timeless and sustainable.
