1240C COLLECTION

DESIGNED WITH THE GREATEST CARE AND ATTENTION

1240C is the product of years of experience and knowledge of our craft: unprecedented quality. 1240C restores everything to its original state: a ceramic pot was meant to be watertight, it was only years later that the pot was given its decorative function.

We have brought these two together and we have a reason to be proud of the resulting. 1240C stoneware pottery, just like our parents and green professionals were used to using.

HANDMADE IN PORTUGAL

The products are named after the temperature at which this stoneware has been fired: 1240 degrees Celsius. Through its versatile nature, 1240C is a beautiful addition to your collection, and above all timeless and sustainable.
